

Lennox International Announces Leadership Change in Worldwide Refrigeration Segment

June 2, 2005

DALLAS, June 2 /PRNewswire-FirstCall/ -- Lennox International Inc. (NYSE: LII) announced today that Harry J. Ashenhurst, chief administrative officer, LII, will assume the additional responsibility of president and chief operating officer of LII's Worldwide Refrigeration business segment. Ashenhurst replaces Mike Schwartz, who has left the company to pursue other interests. An active internal and external search is underway and a permanent replacement will be named in the coming months.

"We will take this opportunity to evaluate our internal and external options to ensure we position Worldwide Refrigeration for improved performance and growth," said Bob Schjerven, CEO, LII.

Ashenhurst has been with LII since 1989 when he joined the company as vice president, human resources. Throughout his career he has been charged with increasing responsibility and in 2000, was named chief administrative officer with responsibility for human resources, public relations, investor relations, government affairs, risk management, aviation, safety and campus facilities. In addition, he provides professional support to operations management of all three LII business segments -- Heating and Cooling, Refrigeration, and Service Experts.

"We will continue to move forward on our global strategy for our Refrigeration business segment and Harry has the leadership skills and understanding of our strategy to lead that effort," said Schjerven.

Operating in over 100 countries, Lennox International Inc. is a global leader in the heating, ventilation, air conditioning, and refrigeration markets. Lennox International stock is traded on the New York Stock Exchange under the symbol "LII".
